

TEDDY CLOSES HIS CAMPAIGN TODAY

FINAL ADDRESS WILL BE AT OWEHO THIS EVENING.

He is in the Best of Health and Spirits—
Bryan Making an Assault on Chicago—Has Lost His Freshness and Color, and Has Grown Worn and Weary Looking.

Jamestown, N. Y., Nov. 2.—Governor Roosevelt virtually closed the campaign today. When the governor delivers his final address at Owego tonight he will have made over one hundred speeches in this state. This morning he was in the best of health and spirits; reports from New York to the contrary are without foundation.

Bryan Has Lost His Color.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—William Jennings Bryan arrived in Chicago yesterday to begin his last effort to carry Illinois for free silver by his speeches. He was warmly greeted thousands of people turning out to see and cheer the democratic candidate. On the lake front where he spoke to a crowd of 20,000 people he was wildly cheered. In the evening Bryan made eight speeches on the North Side and was enthusiastically welcomed.

The presidential candidate shows plainly the effects of his arduous speaking campaign. His face has lost the fresh color that it had a month ago and is now worn and weary looking. There are circles about his eyes that tell of insufficient sleep and overexertion, and if he were not for the memory of his marvelous physical endurance during the 1896 campaign one would believe him to be on the verge of collapse.

"Yes, I am rather tired," he said in reply to a question, "but I'm all right, nevertheless. You see, I'm getting used to this sort of a thing."

Bryan's Second Day in Chicago.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—Bryan began today's program of twelve speeches with a talk to the single taxers at Handel Hall at eleven o'clock. An hour later he addressed an immense throng at Lake Front park. In driving from the hotel to the lake front and thence to the hall the candidate was given great attention by the shoppers. It is estimated that the Lake Front crowd aggregated twenty-five thousand. This afternoon at four o'clock he resumes his speech making in the southern part of the city. Bryan expressed himself immensely gratified with his reception in Chicago.

Throw Eggs at Bryan.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—William Jennings Bryan found that history repeats itself, when last night, as he was leaving Central Turner hall, 1108 Milwaukee avenue, three eggs were hurled from the crowd into the head carriage, where the thrower supposed the presidential nominee to be. This carriage was occupied by four detectives, who were accompanying Mr. Bryan from place to place. Contents of all three of the ancient eggs splattered over the sleuths. One offender was arrested. Estimated number of those who heard Bryan speak at nine meetings in Chicago last night—42,000.

FLAMES THREATEN CITY OF PORTAGE

Heavy Rains Recently Have Raised Great Apprehension in the Wisconsin River Valley.

Portage, Wis., Nov. 2.—There is much apprehension regarding another flood in the Wisconsin river at this point. The government gauge at the canal here yesterday afternoon showed the water to be 3 1/2 feet below the highest stage reached in the recent flood when the river was higher here than it was ever known to be before. Repair work on the big crevasse in the levee above the city has begun but can hardly be completed in time to hold the flood if the heavy rains of the past few days continue.

Get a Life's Savings.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—Vincennes Disalvo, an Italian laborer living at 197 West Taylor street, fell into the hands of confidence men and lost $2,500—the savings of his lifetime—with which he intended to buy a home for himself and his sweetheart, who is now in Italy.

The scheme used by the confidence men to secure Disalvo's money was the old "switch the satchel" game, whereby an empty satchel was exchanged for the valise which contained Disalvo's money.

Cargo Is Valued at $408,000.

Duluth, Minn., Nov. 2.—The most valuable grain cargo ever carried on the great lakes is being loaded in Duluth by the new steamer Howard Shaw. The Shaw is loading for A. D. Thomson & Co., 200,000 bushels of flaxseed, consigned to Buffalo, and the flaxseed is insured for $1.80 a bushel. This would make the total value of the cargo $468,000. The grain is consigned to Spencer Kellogg at Buffalo.

William Smith returned this morning from Madison.

VICTOR STRIKE IS SETTLED.

Employees and Managers of Independence Mine Reach Agreement.

Victor, Col., Nov. 2.—The executive board of the Victor miners' union was in session five hours last night with Manager Shipman and Assistant Manager Grant of the Independence mine discussing the strike of the independence miners on account of the recent personal search order of the mine management. It was announced that all difficulties had been settled, and Mr. Grant stated that the 3 o'clock shift will go on as usual today. The men will strip to their underclothing and if they are suspected of stealing ore they will be searched by some of their comrades under the eye of a watchman. Another feature of the agreement is that the mine management will give preference to members of the union wherever possible. The 300 men affected by the strike have been out five days.

Out Price of English Iron.

London, Nov. 2.—In hopes of stemming American and German competition the leading iron manufacturers of Staffordshire and Worcestershire issued circulars today announcing a reduction in price of 20 shillings a ton.

LA FOLLETTE MAKES A HIT AT RIPON

Great Crowd and Enthusiasm Last Night—Quarles At Columbus—Bragg at Milwaukee.

Ripon, Wis., Nov. 2.—The La Follette special arrived in this city at 8 o'clock last evening, and the republican candidate addressed an audience of 3,000 in the armory of Co. D, Second regiment.

There were excursions from Princeton, Dartford, Fond du Lac, Waupun, Green Lake, Markeson, Brandon and other places in the vicinity. The great auditorium was crowded and all children were excluded to make room for the adults.

As Mr. La Follette entered the armory, having been escorted through the streets by a torchlight procession and two bands of music, the great audience arose and gave him cheer after cheer. Congressman Davidson acted as chairman.

Columbus, Wis., Nov. 2.—Senator Quarles spoke last night to the largest and most enthusiastic audience ever assembled here at a political rally. He spoke at length on trusts and imperialism and pointed out in a most convincing way the danger of free silver in the event of Bryan's election. Milwaukee, Nov. 2.—Chairman Bryan of the republican state central committee received word yesterday that General Bragg would address a meeting at Mayville Monday evening giving his views as to the duties of a gold democrat in the present campaign.

PETRIFIED BODY IS FOUND.

Discovery in Celler Once Used by a Famous Embalmer.

New York, Nov. 2.—While workmen were clearing up a cellar formerly occupied by the late Dr. Thomas S. Holmes, who had a drug store in Brooklyn, they came across a box securely fastened, which was found to contain the petrified head and trunk of a girl about twelve years old. The police made an investigation and became satisfied that the skeleton was the property of Dr. Holmes, who, it is said, experimented with an embalming process which he had used during the civil war, and the secret of which he died without revealing. It was Dr. Holmes' boast that he had discovered a process of embalming that would ossify bodies. He was at work on the process when he died. During the war Dr. Holmes embalmed the bodies of many soldiers. He also embalmed the body of President Lincoln.

ALVORD MUST PUT UP $150,000 BAIL

New York, Oct. 2.—Defaulter Alvord of the First National bank was arraigned this morning before commissioner Shields. He demanded an examination, which was set for Wednesday next. Bail was fixed at $150,000 but as no bondsman put in an appearance the prisoner was returned to the Ludlow Street jail.

Smallpox Outbreak Feared.

Washington, Nov. 2.—United States Consul McCook at Dawson, Yukon Territory, in a report just received, dated a month ago, reports several new cases of smallpox in the pest-house below Dawson, and says it looks as if there might be a serious outbreak of this disease at Dawson this winter. Navigation is now about closed there.

Victim of Explosion Dies.

New York, Nov. 2.—Joseph Bacharach, a merchant, who was injured in the Tarrant explosion Monday, died today. He was internally injured, had his head cut by glass and the tendons of his right arm were severed. The search for bodies in the Tarrant wreckage was kept up all night, but none was found.

PAYNE SAYS IT WILL BE A LANDSLIDE

NOT ALARMED OVER PRESENCE OF BRYAN IN COOK COUNTY.

An Overwhelming Majority For McKinley in the Middle West Predicted—Betting Odds Run From 2 to 1 to 6 to 1 and Even Higher On a General Republican Victory.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 2.—"The child's eyes are 'sot,'" said vice chairman Payne of the republican national committee today. "It will be a perfect landslide for McKinley."

Mr. Payne is not at all alarmed at Bryan coming to Cook county. "We are not at all afraid of him," he said. "He tried the same dodge four years ago, winding up his campaign in Cook county, and you know the result."

Mr. Payne was asked if he feared trouble at the polls.

"I do not," he answered. "There can be no room for strife or contest when we will carry Ohio by 75,000 and Minnesota by from 40,000 to 50,000, Illinois by 100,000, Wisconsin by 100,000, North Dakota by 10,000, Kansas by from 25,000 to 30,000, Michigan by 75,000."

Looks Like a Landslide.

"Every indication is that there will be a landslide for McKinley. The indications are more marked than they were four years ago. The democrats have on organization entitled to the name of organization in any state."

"The people will decide the questions at stake by an overwhelming majority. There may be exceptions to the general rule in a few cases, but it will be a landslide for McKinley. There is no reason to be alarmed over the possibility of frauds or rioting. The result will be overwhelming."

People Are Crazy to Bet.

James J. Townsend, the LaSalle street stock broker, says that a New York Stock Exchange man has notified him that he is ready to bet $100,000 against $10,000 that McKinley will carry New York State by at least 50,000 majority. Mr. Townsend adds: "I never before saw people so crazy to make election bets as they are in this campaign. Our office was full of them today. The odds are all the way from 2 to 1 to 6 to 1; and even higher, and on every proposition imaginable."

Jones in Danger of Jail.

Senator James K. Jones in his capacity of chairman of the democratic national committee advocated still another form of lawlessness yesterday. On Wednesday he advised all the democrats to assemble around the polling places election night and if the returns did not suit them to "throw the election judges into the street."

His last utterance is a demand for all democrats to boycott the firm of Montgomery Ward & Co. because it did something Senator Jones does not like and while the appeal is framed with an evident attempt to avoid the law of Illinois forbidding boycotting and blacklisting, yet the opinion of lawyers is the chairman of the democratic national committee has made himself liable to the penalties of that law. Those penalties are imprisonment in the penitentiary for five years or a $2,000 fine, or both.

Clerk to Wed a Millionaire.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 2.—Miss Hortense Weil, formerly employed in a department store here, is to marry Conrad Schreiber, the millionaire brewer of Sheboygan. It is said the marriage is soon to take place. Miss Weil has already given up her position and is busy with the preparations for her wedding. The romance of which the wealthy brewer and the clerk are the central figures had its beginning at the wedding of the latter's brother. There she met Mr. Schreiber and they fell in love.

Big Lion Hunt in Colorado.

Colorado Springs, Col., Nov. 2.—The second annual lion hunt of the Western Slope Hunting association formally started from Debeque today for the mountainous region north. The association itself numbers among its members hundreds of crack shots and sportsmen scattered throughout every section of the country. Last year it is estimated that 3,000 hunters participated.

Buy Saratoga Track.

New York, Nov. 2.—Saratoga's race track changed hands, going into the hands of the most prominent turfmen in the country. For a price said to be $2,000,000 a syndicate composed of R. T. Wilson, Jr., W. C. Whitney, F. R. Hitchcock, T. Hitchcock, Harry Alexander, A. Featherstone and P. J. Dwyer has secured the property.

Indiana Banker Is Missing.

Hartford, City, Ind., Nov. 2.—O. C. Atkinson of Albany, Ind., assistant cashier of the Albany state bank, has mysteriously disappeared. The affairs of the bank have not yet been examined. Atkinson is married and his wife is one of the social leaders of Albany.

The Shah's $400,000 Pipe.

The most valuable pipe in the world is the state pipe of the Shah of Persia. It is set with precious stones, and is worth $400,000.

STEPS TO PROTECT THE BALLOT BOXES

MEET THREAT OF CROKER TO USE VIOLENCE AT POLLS.

Formal Statement Issued By the Republican National Committee to Voters—The G. O. P. Has Always Stood Squarely For a Fair Vote and an Honest Count.

New York, Nov. 2.—The republican national committee today issued a formal statement to voters as follows: "Mr. Croker, the head of the democratic organization in New York, has ordered his subordinates to gather in force at the polls next Tuesday, and in case they see the result of the count going against them to eject the election officers and take possession of the ballot boxes by force. This astounding anarchistic order has been approved and endorsed by Senator Jones, the chairman of the democratic national committee."

The republican party has always stood firmly for a square vote and an honest count. A dishonest election is possible only through violence such as is now threatened by the democratic leaders, because an equal number of inspectors from both parties is present at every polling place and so long as these inspectors are not interfered with the voting must be conducted fairly. The democratic plan officially declared now is to overpower the inspectors wherever the party exigencies appear to require violent interference.

"Notwithstanding the announcement of this democratic policy of terrorizing voters and burglarizing the ballot boxes, the republican national committee desires to say to the public that the republican managers national, state and local, have taken measures to insure the protection of the rights of every voter in the pending election and that the votes shall be properly counted and recorded as cast."

The committee therefore admonishes all voters that they must not be deterred by these threats of the democratic leaders from exercising the right of suffrage on Tuesday next; for every citizen is entitled by law to protection in this, his highest privilege, and we shall see to it that his vote shall also be protected, at all hazards."

Opera House Burned Down.

Patterson, N. J., Nov. 2.—Fire this morning destroyed the opera house. The loss is $150,000.

SPOONER PREDICTS MAJORITY OF 75,000

State of Wisconsin in No Kind of Doubt—No Question About Victory for McKinley.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 2.—Senator Spooner addressed an audience of 3,000 at the Schlitz park last night. He reviewed the issues of the campaign but devoted himself particularly to the Philippine question. He scored Bryan severely for his inconsistencies, and charged that the life of the rebellion now is the hope that Bryan may triumph in the election. The majority of the audience were Germans and every point which he made against the anti-imperialists was cheered.

"While I don't put much stock in campaign predictions," said Senator John C. Spooner after his speech last night, "I shall nevertheless be greatly surprised if Wisconsin does not give a republican majority of 75,000."

"As for the other sections of the country that I have visited, the signs have everywhere been encouraging. This is a republican year and there is little room for doubt as to the outcome of the election."

Senator Spooner will speak this evening in Fond du Lac and tomorrow in Green Bay; while he will close his campaign Monday evening in Waukesha.

PRESIDENT HEARST OFFERS A REWARD

New York, Nov. 2.—President Hearst of the democratic clubs has issued a volunteers to watch the polls to see the returns and to tally to the number of voters entering the booths. He offers a cash reward of $1,000 for every man who furnishes proof of fraud and $5,000 for the first case reported with proof of conviction.

Prominent Wyoming Lawyer Dead.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Nov. 2.—Benjamin F. Fowler, a prominent attorney, died here after an operation for appendicitis. He was born in Jo Daviess county, Illinois, and was 40 years old.

Underleaves of Foulard.

Very effective underleaves for white serge gowns are made of foulard, either white or colored, dotted with polka spots, contrasting with the ground. Pale blue, with white spots, is very pretty, but in every case of this kind the silk is used for the blouse worn under a short bolero.

Will Skelly is in Chicago on business for a few days.

DISINFECTING MOLOKAI MAIL

Method Adopted to Prevent the Spread of Leprosy.

Washington, Nov. 2.—Marine Hospital Surgeon Carmichael, at Honolulu, Hawaii, in a report to Surgeon General Wyman on the disinfection of mails from the leper settlements on the island of Molokai, says a reasonably safe plan has been adopted to avoid the delay incident to sending the mail to the quarantine station. All mail from the leper settlement will be disinfected with sulphur dioxide at the settlement and then transferred directly to the steamer and received aboard in clean and disinfected sacks furnished by the postoffice authorities. At Honolulu the mail will be taken in these sacks directly to a room in the postoffice used for disinfection purposes and disinfected with formaldehyde without removal from the sacks in which received on the steamer at the leper settlement. All letters are perforated or the corners clipped at the settlement before disinfection. No case of leprosy, the surgeon reports, has yet been discovered among the postoffice employees, although non-disinfected mail from the leper settlement has been handled by them for many years.

DON CARLOS HAS ARRIVED IN SPAIN

The Pretender Now Has His Revolutionary Agents at Work in All Parts of That Country.

Madrid, Nov. 2.—Don Carlos, the Spanish pretender, it is reported has arrived at Catalonia in North Eastern Spain. His agents are now active in all parts of the country. The government has ordered gunboats to patrol the coast to prevent the landings of munitions and an army of police is active forestalling attempts at insurrection.

Barcelona, Nov. 2.—The captain general of Barcelona has refused to offer further government troops believing that firm measures at the outset have already killed the Carlist uprising. The Carlists in the neighborhood of Igualada are making no progress. In skirmishes the regulars lost two killed and several wounded. Two insurgents were killed by the civil guards at Mozesuadilla. The arrest of the Carlist general Soliva is confirmed.

Rome, Nov. 2.—The pope earnestly recommends to the Spanish clergy that they oppose the Carlists because Spain says the pontiff requires peace not anarchy to recover from her recent disasters.

BOERS TAKE NINETY BRITISH.

Cape Town, Nov. 2.—It transpired today that a Boer commando captured a British outpost of ninety men in the vicinity of Geneva, Oct. 28, and afterward held up a Cape Town mail train, looted the carriages and passengers, destroyed the mails, set fire to the train and decamped on the approach of an armored train. Not wishing to be hampered, the Boers later released the prisoners they had captured.

Reward for Boer "Snipers."

Cape Town, Nov. 2.—The government offer of $1,000 reward for information that will lead to the arrest of the perpetrators of the recent Boer outrages at Frazerburg is attracting much attention in that district and throughout the colony. It is thought that it will lead to the detection of the "snipers."

Seek Pension for Old Age.

Vienna, Nov. 2.—The Austrian manufacturers congress now in session here adopted a resolution practically endorsing the socialist doctrine of a national system of old age and sickness insurance. They insist, however, that the system should not be confined to factory workers, but should cover also agricultural laborers, domestic servants, and, in fact, wage-earners of every class. They also insist that the funds for providing these pensions be provided from state, provincial and municipal public moneys. It is hoped that the government will introduce some such measures in the near future.

Legislators Hurt in a Fight.

Valdosta, Ga., Nov. 2.—A bloody fight occurred on the special train bringing the Georgia legislators here to attend the state fair. Several of the members who, it is said, had been drinking, engaged in a quarrel in which knives were freely used. Mr. Harden of Wilkes county was stabbed by Member Hamby of Carroll county. Cann of Chatham and two others were injured in trying to stop the fight. The train was held at Forsyth until medical attention was secured. Mr. Harden's condition was so serious that he was left at Forsyth for treatment.

Eight Boxers Are Shot.

New York, Nov. 2.—A special cable from Pao Ting Fu Oct. 26 says eight boxers who took prominent parts in the massacre of the missionaries were discovered in the city by the Germans and summarily shot.

SUDDEN DEATH OF WILLIAM L. STRONG

FORMER MAYOR OF NEW YORK DIES OF HEART TROUBLE.

His Illness Was Concealed on Account of Sound Money Parade, in Which He Was a Leading Spirit—Was Multi-Millionaire and Prominent in Republican Party.

New York, Nov. 2.—Former Mayor William L. Strong died suddenly at three o'clock this morning at his residence from rheumatic gout. His illness was concealed for fear of depressing his co-laborers in the organization of the sound money parade tomorrow of which he was a leading spirit. He was elected mayor in 1894 on a reform ticket defeating Hugh J. Grant, democrat. He was the head of the wholesale house of William L. Strong Co., and a multi-millionaire. He has been prominently identified with the republican party in city politics for many years.

GEN. BOOTH IS COMING HERE.

Salvation Army Commander-in-Chief Will Take Charge in the States.

New York, Nov. 2.—Gen. William Booth, commander-in-chief of the Salvation army, is coming here next September to take practically the control of the Salvation army in the United States for at least six months. This announcement was made last night by Commander Booth-Tucker, who arrived here from England on the steamer Teutonic. He went there early in October to invite the general to come over and assist in the solution of problems which the Salvation army is endeavoring to solve. One of the chief problems, he said, was that of organizing and maintaining the farm colonies which the army is establishing in some of the states.

"The army, which has the power under its charter to issue bonds," the commander said, "may issue bonds to the amount of $150,000 to put the colonies on a firm basis. It has been said that the poor in the cities do not want to go into the country to live. They do want to go into the country. I have 5,000 more applications for homes in our colonies than I can grant. General Booth is a great organizer and will be able to aid us in a satisfactory solution of the problem."

When asked as to the rumor that he was to be transferred to some other command, Commander Booth-Tucker said he knew nothing about it.

DANGER IS FEARED IN BRYAN MONEY

Heads of New York Savings Banks Declare His Election Will Cause Lower Values.

New York, Nov. 2.—The republican state committee sent a communication signed by 500 depositors in the Greenwich, the Bowery, the Union Dime, and the Immigrants' Industrial Savings banks, to the presidents of the following banks asking them the following question:

"As the custodians of our money, what in your opinion would be the actual effect upon our deposits if a free silver coinage bill, such as Bryan advocates, were passed?" John D. Hicks, President of the Bowery Savings bank in his reply addressed to the signers of the petition says:

"The election of Mr. Bryan and all that it implies, as it relates to the free coinage of silver, would be a serious menace to every interest that the savings bank represents."

Charles E. Sprague, President of the Dime Savings Bank, in his answer says:

"While the nominal amount of your deposits would remain the same, they would certainly depreciate in actual value."

John Harsen Rhoades, President of the Greenwich bank, writes:

"If gold goes to a premium, as it surely will in the case of free coinage, the depositor would find that the moneys withdrawn by him would not purchase so much as they do now, owing to the rise in prices which must take place."

PRINCE TUAN HAS FLED IN DISGRACE

Shanghai, Nov. 2.—A Shanghai correspondent of the Standard says a Chinese official telegram from Sunan Fu (Siganan) states that Prince Tuan has fled to Mongolia with his head shaved and disguised as a Buddhist priest. It is reported that he intends to join the Llamas.

Heavy Losses Due to Rains.

Winona, Minn., Nov. 2.—The heavy rains of the last week have caused extensive damage in this vicinity. The farmers complain that continued rains have made it impossible for them to thrash what grain they have in stack, and now the grain is beginning to sprout. The loss will amount to thousands of dollars. At Pickwick there are also reports of heavy damage, the water washing out several bridges.

COUNTY ASSESSORS MAKE MANY ERRORS

SOME STARTLING STATEMENTS IN THE ABSTRACT.

Mr. William Clark, Who Has Lived at Edgerton Since 1857, Died Last Saturday—Democratic Rally Monday Evening—Social and Personal from County Towns.

Edgerton, Wis., Nov. 2.—In a recent publication entitled, "Abstract of Assessment, Rock County," some very startling statements are made. For instance the town of Lima is reported as having some 22,967 acres of farming lands. Upon these were grown 43,260 acres of corn and 34,100 acres of oats besides hundreds of acres of other crops. That is what might be termed crowding the mourners. The city of Beloit reports 478 bicycles while the city of Janesville has but 74. This may be accounted for by the fact that Janesville has a street railway.

The town of Avon is credited with having 925 cows and their total value is put down at $1,307. This makes them worth a trifle over $1.40 a head. And that is what we call mighty cheap cows. A chance for some one to start a creamery and buy up all the cows in the town. Figures of this kind run through the whole book, and it would seem as though the town and city assessors were not fully competent to draw the salaries paid to them.

Another of the pioneers of Rock county has passed to his last reward. On Sunday, Oct. 28, Mr. William Clark closed his eyes in death at Edgerton at his home where he has lived since 1857. Mr. Clark was a mason by trade, an honest upright man and a neighbor who will be greatly missed. He was always active in the affairs of the town of Fulton and in the long years of his residence there he did what he thought was best for the advancement of the town and county. Funeral services conducted by Rev. Stafford of Stoughton were held from the home on Wednesday and his remains were laid to rest in Fasset cemetery. Seven children, all grown to adulthood and womanhood, are left to mourn the loss of a kind father.

Ripe raspberries picked from the bush by L. K. Jessup are another sign of the prosperous times. When potatoes, tobacco, apples and raspberries yield a second crop in Edgerton what's the use of voting to put McKinley out of the Whitehouse.

At last! At last! In the waning of the day that marks the close of the political campaign for 1900, the fragmental end of the democratic party in Edgerton are going to be permitted to listen to the tinkling of the 16 to 1 doctrine according to the Prophet. Bryan. The meeting on Monday evening, next will be addressed by Hon. Wm. Smith of Janesville and the noted German orator, Dr. Hugo Speer. It is the first sign of life the poor old party has displayed here and there is no question but what the satellites the Bryanites and the Hyattites will come from the highways by-ways and alleys in numbers sufficient to fill Royal hall more than half full. It will be their last chance to whoop-up for the great exponent of 16 to 1 as on Tuesday next throughout the land the requiem will be sung for the departure of the political soul of the great anti-imperialist and would-be president of this great commonwealth.

Mr. Arthur Shannon and Miss Dora Croft were united in marriage on Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 31, 1900. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Hannah Croft, by the Rev. Frank L. Moore. Mr. and Mrs. Shannon are both Edgerton young people and will in the future make their home at Westby, Wis. On Friday Miss Emily Aaby left for Sweden to pay a visit to the land of her birth. Miss Aaby intends to return to Edgerton in the Spring.

The democratic candidate for sheriff of Rock county was in Edgerton Tuesday announcing to his friends here that he had played and won the battle. What a lump of disappointment will fall to the lot of such when the votes of Tuesday next are counted. Edgerton is going to show her appreciation of the late republican convention and roll up a gigantic majority for every nominee on the ticket. Hon. M. J. Jeffris will speak to a republican gathering at Royal hall on Saturday evening, November 3. Mr. Jeffris and wife will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Sloan over Sunday.

Johnson McGiffin is going to Janesville to work for his brother, H. S., in the Sylvester warehouse. Mr. McGiffin will live at 111 South Main street. His household effects are being moved there this week.

CLINTON.

Clinton, Nov. 2.—Death has again entered our community entering the home of Mr. James Irish on Oct. 27, and removing the beloved wife and mother, Mrs. Florida Irish. For several years her health has been very poor. She leaves a devoted husband and three children to mourn her loss. The children are Mrs. H. W. Stearns of Grand Island, Neb., Mrs. E. S. Smith and Mrs. R. W. Chenevier of this place. The funeral was held at the family residence Monday afternoon, Rev. Dr. McChesney officiating.

The news that Robert M. La Follette was coming to Clinton last Saturday for a short time drew a large crowd as all were anxious to see the future governor of Wisconsin. While waiting for the train which was to bring the honored gentleman Hon. Alex. Matheson of Janesville gave a very able talk on the money question. The Beloit district convention of Congregational churches which was held on Tuesday and Wednesday in this place was largely attended and was very interesting in all its sessions. Prof. Harper of Chicago was listened to Wednesday afternoon with unusual interest.

Mrs. Dr. Colver entertained an old school mate from Sycamore, Ill., last week.

Mr. Kirkpatrick moved on the Walter Bruce farm last week from Bradford.

Mr. Brownell's family are occupying Mrs. Estes' house at the corner of Cross and Pleasant streets.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Hamilton were the recipients of a genuine surprise last Friday evening previous to their departure from their farm southeast of here.

Miss Jeanette McArthur was obliged on account of ill health to resign her position as teacher in our school. Miss McChesney has been called to fill her place.

Mrs. James Selkirk of Janesville has thought best to come back to keep house for her father for the present.

A new gas plant has been received and is being used as an experiment by our citizens.

The usual small boy was around on All Hallows' even as was plainly in evidence on the morning following.

Burglars entered the tailor shop of Henry Frank on Saturday night and took several articles of clothing.

An administrators' sale on the Griswold farm November 8. All stock will be sold.

Mrs. Lake expects to go to Washington soon to live with her daughter.

The lecture course for the winter promises to be a fine one. $1 for the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Reader are happy over the arrival of a nine pound baby daughter, Oct. 3.

CENTER.

Center, Nov. 2.—The sale at Seth Fisher came off as advertised on Wednesday and in spite of the showers during the afternoon, was one of the largest auction sales in this vicinity for years.

We are sorry to lose Mr. Fisher for in his going we will lose one of our oldest settlers and one who was always ready to help advance anything that was for the progress of our town and county.

Mrs. Agnes J. Hawk was in Footville shopping Saturday evening.

Jim Caldwell is in Janesville receiving medical treatment.

Sampson Hopkins, formerly of this place, but now of Peola, Wis., is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Hopkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Rosa, have rented the Rice farm at Footville and will move in the spring.

Henry Hathorne of Mason City, Iowa, has been visiting Center friends during the last week.

August Albright has bought the John Davis farm.

Mrs. G. N. Ashby and daughter-in-law, Mrs. Frank Ashby, also Mr. Will Howell, attended the flag raising in the Beck district, Spring Valley, on Friday last.

Miss Agnes Lynch of Janesville, spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Will Silvertorn.

Mr. Green of Peola, Wis., is visiting his friend, Mr. Carl Minch.

Mrs. Kate Dean will start soon for California, where she will spend the winter with her sons, Orrie and Camp.

Mr. Will Oory is treating his building to a new coat of paint which will be quite an improvement.

James Plunket's familiar face was seen on our streets Tuesday.

William Crow will sell his farm machinery at private sale prices to suit the buyers.

Charles Hawk and family spent Sunday with Mrs. Hawk's mother, it being the anniversary of her seventy-fifth birthday.

FOOTVILLE.

Footville, Nov. 2.—Hallow's even was duly celebrated in this vicinity, but in a decidedly ungentlemanly way by some of the older youths whose common sense is quite conspicuous for its absence.

The ladies of the Wednesday Reading circle gave a Hallow's even spread at the home of Mrs. A. J. Snyder. The table was bedecked in every ancient appearing article available, but the edibles were A1.

The finest entertainment ever presented in Footville will be given by the Dixie Jubilee Singers Saturday evening, November 3.

CHANGES MADE ON THE ST. PAUL ROAD

Several changes took place yesterday in the passenger and freight departments of the Milwaukee road. W. W. Winton, who is well known here, assumes the district passenger agency at Madison, vice D. H. Moses, resigned. Grant Williams, son of Orange Williams, of this city, who has been private secretary for Pres. A. J. Earling, will become division freight agent with headquarters at Chicago, the place made vacant by Mr. Winton's transfer. A. B. Caswell will be come division freight and passenger agent at Des Moines vice R. M. Collins, who has been appointed assistant general freight agent at Chicago. G. W. Blair takes the commercial agency at Cleveland succeeding A. B. Caswell.

It will not be a surprise to any who are at all familiar with the good qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, to know that the people everywhere take pleasure in relating their experience in the use of that splendid medicine and in telling of the benefit they have received from it, of bad colds it has cured, of threatened attacks of pneumonia it has averted and of the children it has saved from attacks of croup and whooping cough. It is a grand, good medicine. For sale by Smith's Pharmacy, next to P. O. Kodak Agents.

WORK OF GRADING SNIPE HILL DONE

The work of grading Snipe Hill for the Janesville & Southeastern railway, was finished yesterday, and the big steam shovel was moved away. Ever since last July a force of about fifty men have been employed on the work there, and the amount of money paid out for the workmen is something enormous. For the salaries of the men employed there and near Janesville on the roadbed over $40,000 has been paid out in the last four months, an average of $10,000 a month. As most of these men are boarding in Janesville, it has been a pretty good thing for the people here. Taking the amount of money paid for the right of way through Janesville, into consideration, there has been in the neighborhood of $90,000 put into circulation in the last six months.

The roadbed is almost ready for the rails, and workmen will start out next week laying them from this end. Rails are laid within fourteen miles from here now, and it is all done there with the exception of about five miles south, where there is a stretch not yet finished.

THE DARLINGTONS.

One of the brightest and most interesting American stories of the day, fresh from the press of the McClure's, is "The Darlings." The story comes like sparkling new wine after the surfeit of colonial novels, where various authors have attempted to rival each other in painting historical pictures of characters that were largely the product of vivid imagination.

"The Darlings" live today, not in Germany or Russia, but in America. They are not heroes or heroines performing deeds of valor or infamy so unreal as to invite skepticism, but every-day people, working out a destiny in the ordinary walks of life, and performing the task so naturally that the reader forgets the novel in the truthfulness of portrayal.

The story is founded in the middle west, in a town of a few thousand inhabitants, typical of a large number of American towns. The descriptions of character and conditions are so true to life that they are pleasant reminders of every-day life in these miniature cities.

The Darlington family were leaders in the small aristocracy of the place, and the principal owners and officers of a railroad that stretched away a hundred miles to the metropolis. Charles Darlington the father, was president; shrewd, calculating, but honest—a typical railroad man. The son, Bert, was traffic manager; a bright young man, but cursed with an inherited appetite for drink, with which he vainly struggled. The daughter, "Carol," a young lady of twenty graduated from college to become the auditor of the road; a character whose sprightliness and worth captivate the reader. Stephen Kantelborn a young clergyman, is perhaps the strongest character in the story.

A vein of humor and a fine thread of morality, with just enough theology to give the book strong character, are so woven into the story that the reader lays it by reluctantly.

The book is in such demand that the first edition was exhausted before it left the press.

The author is Elmore Elliott Peake. Mr. Peake has been a successful magazine contributor for some time and has a bright future before him. The Gazette feels a kindly interest in him, as he lived in Janesville when a boy and was on the carrier force of the paper.

Winston Churchill's Success.

Mr. Winston Churchill has probably made a better thing out of the Transvaal war than anybody else. He has drawn a larger salary than has ever been heard of before for a war correspondent. He has accepted an offer of $50,000 to lecture in America. His book will have an enormous sale. He has made a journalistic reputation that is worth a big income, he has gained a position as a public man, and he has earned a safe seat in parliament. All this in his twenties!

FOR FIRST VOTERS.

A GREAT RESPONSIBILITY RESTS UPON THEM.

Warned to Beware of the False Issues Invented by the Democrats, Seek to Blind the People by Imaginary Dangers.

The census of 1890 shows that there were in the United States in that year 2,516,043 young men of the ages of 21 to 24, inclusive. Considering the increase in population during the last decade, it is safe to say that on the 6th of next November at least 3,000,000 young men will be eligible to cast their first presidential votes. When we remember that President McKinley's plurality, with a single exception the largest ever given to a president, was 601,854 and when we consider the fact that young men are not bound by party ties, it appears how great and how decisive is to be the influence of the first voters upon the result of the struggle now in progress.

In every crisis of our history the numbers, the freedom from traditional prejudice and the enthusiasm of our young men have been the determining factors in the final result. We have now reached another great crisis in our national development, and once more the young men should come actively to the front. Four years ago a coterie of men obtained control of the Democratic party, thrust aside the great, conservative leaders who had led them to victory in the past and promulgated a platform filled with seductive appeals to class prejudice and to the cupidity of human nature—a platform that struck at the independence of the judiciary and demanded that we should sacrifice our national honor by debasing the currency. Those leaders were repudiated by the people, and as each succeeding year has given additional proof of the absurdity and falsity of their arguments the popular contempt for them has increased. Realizing this, they know that their only hope for success in the present campaign lies in their talking so persistently upon other questions that the people shall forget that they are the same men who led the assault upon our prosperity and national honor in 1896.

Driven by this necessity they have invented a number of sham issues, among which "Imperialism" is declared to be paramount. Nothing could illustrate more forcibly the straits in which they find themselves. During the course of a war in the declaration of which the representatives of all parties united we overthrew the dominion of Spain in the Philippine Islands. Having taken this step we became responsible for the results that should follow. When we had freed the people from their foreign oppressors, we could not deliver them over to anarchy or to the irresponsible tyranny of local despots. In the fulfillment of a sacred obligation, therefore, we have entered upon the work of establishing peace, order and good government in these islands that we may give to their people the conditions of a happier existence. This is a practical and honest course of action that any party in power would be compelled to take or stand before the world convicted of incompetency and cowardice. But notwithstanding these plain facts Democratic leaders assume that we have entered upon a career of ruthless foreign conquest with a view to building up a vast colonial system. Upon this false assumption they erect the boggy of imperialism and proceed to launch against it their solemn philippics.

Another product of their invention is "militarism." That we might meet the responsibilities that came to us as a result of our own voluntary action in declaring war upon Spain, the size of our army has been slightly increased. Subsequent events in China have proved that such a step is also necessary if we are to protect our representatives and citizens abroad and maintain our dignity and honor throughout the world. The argument that 80,000,000 people, electing their own rulers at short intervals of time, could have their liberties endangered by a small force of 100,000 men, is too absurd to deceive even the unthinking. We are told, therefore, that this is but the beginning. Such a statement amounts simply to a declaration that the people are unfit to be trusted. The Republican party believes that we may do all that national safety and honor demand and trust that in the future the people shall permit this and no more to be done.

Thus by declaiming incessantly against imaginary dangers do they hope to blind the people to the fact that the Democratic leaders of today are the very men who promulgate the wild vagaries of the Chicago platform. But the people will not forget that immediately upon his inauguration Mr. Bryan would order the troops to be withdrawn from the Philippines, that what he calls imperialism would be at an end and that we should then have four long years of Bryanism and national humiliation.

Chamberlain's Pain Balm Cures Others. Why Not You?

My wife has been using Chamberlain's Pain Balm, with good results, for a lame shoulder that has pained her continually for nine years. We have tried all kinds of medicine and doctors without receiving any benefit from any of them. A Double Checkmate.

They had met in the usual way. Mutual friends had introduced them at an afternoon studio reception, and the few words exchanged over their cups of tea did not make as much of an impression upon either Jack Carruthers or Elsa Champlin as might have been expected. He had just returned from a three years' tour of Europe, after completing a course at Harvard college, while she had been abroad with her aunt ever since graduating from Wellesley, over two years before.

They met again at the seashore. Both felt the beauty of the night as the soft waves of the ocean could be heard, musical in the rhythm, and as the capricious moon, for which so many broken hearts are held responsible, sailed out from the depths of a friendly cloud, revealing the beauty of his companion's face and figure.

"Do you know this is our last evening, Miss Elsa," he said—"that is, for some time to come?"

"Yes," was her low reply. "I was thinking of that myself, but trust you will give aunt and myself the pleasure of a call soon after our return to New York this winter."

Jack's heart beat rapidly. "May I ask for something more than that?" he stammered, stumbling over his first proposal like a youth of 16. "May I have your promise to?"

"Oh, you runaways! We have been looking for you everywhere and are waiting for you to come and give us some music," suddenly interrupted Miss Yonderfelt, and, taking Jack's arm, while her escort offered his to Elsa, they were both in the drawing room before either realized how it had been done, Jack muttering over the turn affairs had taken and she wondering what he had meant to say, while her heart told her the story that was upon his lips.

In the morning, amid the goodbyes, Jack had only a chance to say, "Remember, I shall come and have a question to ask which concerns my whole future happiness," and in reply she had pulled a rose from her lovely bouquet and had given it to him, with a blush and a smile, while her eyes were a dreamy look of tender happiness. "Don't forget!" were his last words, while she waved her handkerchief, then buried her face in the roses he had sent her as the carriage drove rapidly away toward the station.

The coming month, September, found Jack summoned to Paris by the death of his father, and as his mother had died when he was but a child, and he had neither brother nor sister, he found himself heir to a large and scattered property, most of it in English investments, as his father had lived abroad for over ten years. Nearly a year passed before he could complete the transaction of all necessary business, and in the meantime he had been hunting up old friends and thinking less and less of home, although two long letters had, soon after his arrival, found their way across the Atlantic, but, much to his chagrin and disappointment, remained unanswered for several months, and then found their way back to him marked "Address unknown." This was indeed a shock to his bright dreams of future happiness, when he should be able to return and put his fate to the test. Nothing remained now but to make the final arrangements with his agents regarding the management of his business and then return to New York, where he would lose no time in finding her address and seeing her.

Had he only known that the object of his affections was so near him, for she had been for several months at the German baths with her aunt, who was becoming more and more of an invalid, and with whom Elsa had lived since losing both parents when she was but a child.

Five years had swiftly passed, and Jack was again in New York and, strange to say, again the guest of the artist friend who had first introduced him to Elsa. As he strolled about among the guests he could not help looking for that face, which came back so vividly to him amid the old and familiar surroundings, and turned suddenly to hear a voice say:

"Why, Mr. Carruthers, how strange we should meet again after so long a time, and here of all places! Are you not going to remember me?"

It was Elsa, changed, but only as the bud blossoms into the rose of more mature beauty. She had the same laughing eyes, the same bewitching smile and the same air of good breeding. Life was indeed changed to them both, and each realized that the broken threads could not be resumed as might have been thought.

"Why, Miss Champlin, you do not give me a chance to express the pleasure I feel at this renewal of our old friendship. I really had begun to think you were not among the living, as both my letters were returned to me, and I failed completely to find your address."

"Of course, for I never received them. Aunt and I went abroad that winter, traveled several months, then located in Germany, where we remained until her death, two years later. Our constant changes of residence at first made it almost impossible for friends to locate us."

As they moved along chatting on various topics, the new pictures, the latest books and mutual friends of the past, Jack spied, following in the train of a familiar face and coming directly toward them, a distinguished looking man, evidently, by the attention he was receiving, one of the lions of the afternoon. "Here is a celebrity," said Jack, looking toward the gentleman in question. "He is the most distinguished looking man here, it seems to me."

"Do you think so?" said Elsa, with a smile of pride and pleasure. "He is my husband, and I want you to know him. But who is the handsome woman with him, I wonder? Do you know?"

"That," said Carruthers, with a fond look of recognition at the woman in question, "is Mrs. Carruthers. May I have the great pleasure of presenting my wife?" —Boston Post.

MR. BRYAN'S WARNING

"If there is anyone who believes that he gold standard is a good thing, or that it must be maintained, I warn him not to cast his vote for me because I promise him it will not be maintained in this country longer than I am able to get rid of it."—Hon. William Jennings Bryan, Knoxville, Tenn., Sept. 10, 1896.

PROSPERITY IN DAKOTA.

In another column will be found a statement of facts concerning prosperity in South Dakota. The figures at which the farmer sold his stock and produce in 1896 and 1900 are not imaginary and the prices he paid for the goods bought are equally reliable.

It will be noticed that the advance of the latter is less than ten per cent. Mr. Bryan to the contrary notwithstanding.

The argument is so conclusive that any man not blinded by prejudice will be convinced that times have greatly improved. A vote for McKinley means the expression of a desire to continue the era of prosperity that is now blessing the country.

Some people contend that the administration has nothing to do with it; that panics and hard times come periodically and the party in power is in no way responsible. It is undoubtedly true that panics cannot always be averted; that short crops or overproduction sometimes affect the market and cause disaster; but if ever a panic was invited and secured without legitimate cause, it was when the votes of the nation decided in 1892 that the times were too good and they wanted a change.

The country has not yet fully recovered from the effects of the blunder committed, and the same people who were responsible for this blunder, admitted in 1896 that parties and prosperity are very closely allied, so far as this country is concerned.

There are very few people today whose political creed is based on so flimsy an argument as "a change." Experience is a good teacher, and especially when the price of knowledge commands the premium that it did from 1893 to 1896.

There will be no change this year, because the farmers of Dakota and every other state, as well as a majority of the voters throughout the country are satisfied to let well enough alone.

HOW WILL CLEVELAND VOTE?

The claims and denials concerning ex-President Cleveland and his political attitude, indicate that both the republican and Bryan party are intensely interested.

There is no question that Mr. Cleveland has large influence with the conservative and sound money element of the old democratic party, and had he sacrificed principle and conviction early in the campaign, and came out for Bryan, as did Croker and Hill, he would have carried many gold democrats with him. But Mr. Cleveland does not belong to the Croker-Hill faction, and all of his public utterances have been against the fallacy and visionary schemes of Mr. Bryan. He may not vote for Mr. McKinley, but it is very certain that he will not support Mr. Bryan.

Mr. Cleveland does not recognize Bryanism as democracy, and he has been consistent by being loyal to his convictions and his party.

There are other prominent men of influence, whose silence and indifference have been more embarrassing to the republican party, than has Mr. Cleveland's. Ex-President Harrison, until quite recently, has been as glum as an oyster; Thomas B. Reed, the ex-speaker of the house, has also found it convenient to sulk in his tent.

Unlike Mr. Cleveland, these men have been life-long republicans; whatever they possess in the way of national prominence they owe to the republican party. A small grain of appreciation would have prompted them to contribute their influence and an occasional word of encouragement, at least. They will vote for President McKinley and their votes will count the same as any other two votes and no more. They will enjoy the benefits of his administration and the prosperity attendant upon the success of the republican party, without having contributed anything to the cause but a vote, and all because of sore thumbs, that people care but very little about. Mr. Harrison and Mr. Reed are great men, but their political greatness has sunk into insignificance during the present campaign, because of indifference and lack of appreciation.

MR. COOPER'S ADDRESS.

The address of the Honorable H. A. Cooper at the Opera House last evening was an effort worthy of the occasion and worthy of the man. The house was well filled with an appreciative audience. Mr. Cooper is an orator, and unlike many campaign speakers, does not indulge in abuse or slang. He answered every paramount issue of the campaign by argument that was clear and conclusive. On the question of trusts he stated and proved that it was not a political question. On imperialism he showed that it was the same old phantom of the past thirty-five years. As a false prophet he convinced his audience that Bryanism has no equal in the annals of history. His tribute to the memory of Lincoln and Grant was a climax that appealed to the better instincts of his audience causing them to forget party issues and party strife.

A vein of fine sarcasm was woven into the address and contributed to the enjoyment of the evening. Mr. Cooper is entitled to the rank that he has attained in the house and the First district has occasion to be proud of her representative. That he will be returned by an old time majority there is no reason to doubt.

The opening article in the November "Suggestive Therapeutics" (Times-Herald Bldg., Chicago), deals with the curative effects of deep breathing, and pleads for the establishment of a compulsory system of deep breathing exercises in the public schools. Such exercises, it is claimed, would eventually stamp out tuberculosis in the young and while acting as a preventive in the case of strong, healthy children, would build up the weak and sickly to robust health. Methods of breathing are given. This magazine has been enlarged to 128 pages and presents a very diverse table of contents upon psychic subjects by law and medical writers. Send for a copy to The Physic Research Company, Chicago.

The regular army now numbers about 65,000 officers and men. With a population of 76,000,000, Bryan's new forts would have one man to about every 1,200 citizens; he would need an automobile and a gatling gun to make much of a disturbance, unless he could shoot off his mouth as vigorously as does the Nebraska patriot. If militarism is an issue it should have a bell on it to prevent its being lost in the shuffle.

Croker's threat of violence at the polls in New York is charged to Bryan's "Gospel of Hate."

The man who travels over the country attempting to stir up strife and dissension for political glory, is not a safe man for the high office of chief executive of the nation.

Hon. Richard Guenther, consul-general to Germany, is doing good campaign work. He is a convincing speaker and frequently addresses German-American audiences. Mr. Guenther will remain in America until the first of the year.

The state of Nebraska, with a population of more than one million, shows a gain of less than ten thousand in ten years. Populism and Bryanism have demoralized the state.

Finley B. Anderson, one of the principal witnesses against Caleb Powers in the Goebel case, is troubled with a conscience and now declares that he perjured himself on the witness stand. There may be some hope for Kentucky yet.

The new census will doubtless result in a reapportionment. The house is already too large and on the present basis of one congressman to every 200,000 inhabitants, would be increased by about seventy-five new men, which would make an unwieldy body.

Sir Thomas Lipton may not be able to outcall us on the high seas, but he seems to have no trouble in "showing his heels" in the pork market.

PERIL OF THE OREGON.

Sailor's Story of the Warship's Experiences in Chinese Waters.

Mrs. T. D. W. Wood of Fall River, Mass., recently received a letter from her son, Clarence Wood, warrant officer of the United States battleship Oregon, describing his experiences aboard the warship at the time of her running on a rock in Chinese waters, says the New York Herald. The letter is dated Gulf of Pechili, July 6. It says:

"The Oregon has been on the rocks, but is now safely off again, although in a badly damaged condition. We had a very nice run up from Hongkong until we reached the Yellow sea, where we encountered bad weather. On the 28th, while passing through a dangerous spot, we ran hard and fast on a rock, going nearly full speed.

"The rock tore a rent in the bottom on port side fully 25 feet long and about three feet wide. Of course all the watertight doors were closed immediately, but, as is usual in such cases, very few held water and in a short time nearly every compartment forward of the foremast bulkhead was flooded. The ship immediately settled hard on the rock and in about an hour had a very dangerous list to starboard.

"All our pumps were immediately put to work on the flooded compartments, but they could make no headway. We had eight pumps throwing six inch streams and our two main circulators throwing 18 inch streams. Preparations were made to abandon ship and everybody was supplied with a life belt. The weather, however, was very good, and next day a little one horse wrecking company which happened to be in the vicinity came to our assistance and we began to cheer up. The wrecking company brought a diver, who patched up the holes as well as possible, and soon the greater part of the water was pumped out. Then came several faultless trials with the aid of two chartered steamers at each high tide to haul her off. On Monday, July 2, the ship twisted around with the tide, which is very strong here, and drifted off without help.

"Our joy was short lived, however, as no sooner had we got under way to go out clear than we ran swash on the same rocks again, this time harder than before. We went on so hard that we split the rocks right in two, so the divers say. All efforts were now made to lighten the ship forward, and all hands worked night and day unloading coal and ammunition. There were working parties aboard from the Russian, the English and the Japanese cruisers, to say nothing of the help we got from the Yorktown and the Nashville. On Wednesday, the Fourth of July, a grand trial was made to get her off. There was a steamer lashed on each side of us, backing full speed. We backed full speed ourselves, and the Endymion, English cruiser, broke a couple of big hemp hawsers trying to start us, but it was no use.

"The next day, on an exceptionally high tide, the ship again floated off of her own accord, and we steamed carefully into deep water and anchored. By the way, the first man-of-war to offer assistance happened to be a Chinaman, a very natty little cruiser, capable of making 24 knots. The Russians and Japanese were hard after her, but could not catch her. She was in Taku with the fleet. The English thought they had her 'collared,' but she got permission to shift anchorage, and before they knew it she was skipping out, four bells. An English cruiser chased her for 60 hours, but had to give up. While she was here she was under our protection and flew the stars and stripes at the fore. One dark night she left—of course no one knows for where. I will ship a film as soon as possible, showing scenes about the deck, and you can see for yourself what an awful state we are in."

DRY GOODS CLOAKS MILLINERY

Erect Form Corsets.

The effects of straight front Corsets are decided and are made up of curves that produce the figure so much admired. The low waist line in front, the full distended busts, the clearly defined back and smooth hips, add grace and dignity to the figure, while the shape of the garment adds in securing the erect carriage. We carry in this popular Corset the "W. B." Corset, white, drab, and black, at $1.00; also two numbers of the "P. N." Corset at $1.00 and $1.50.

Black Underskirts.

We show a new line of the heavy weight cotton Underskirts and are having a lively sale on the various styles. We show one special number at $1.00 that is great value; others at $1.50, $2.00, $2.50, $3.00.

Children's Headwear.

The millinery department displays a very large line of all the new things in hats and bonnets for little folks; also the camel's hair Tam O'Shanter Cap in red, blue, brown and in the combinations; special at $1.00. Other Caps, 25c and up.

Fall Garments.

The center of attraction is in our cloak department, for as usual we are showing the high grade line of the town. Every day brings something new, and at all times we show you the representative stock. Whatever your ideas, come in and look through, for we believe we can please you.

APPROPRIATE APPAREL

For Men For Winter.

That fashion, now sanctioned, ready-to-wear garments for all society events and for business wear, is a source of great satisfaction to many Janesville men, and a testimonial for the merits of modern methods of making men's clothing.

Now-a-days, as we do it, ready-to-wear garments mean but this: We have anticipated your measurement. Every desirable effect attained by custom tailors is put into the garment before we take your measure. You select the pattern, the style and other points desired.

There is a saving of time—VERY IMPORTANT frequently. There is no anxious fear that at the last moment, when you need the garment, you will find it not completed or unsatisfactory. Besides this there is the price saving—always an important point.

On the whole, the advantage seems to be on the side of the ready-to-wear garment.

WER HOUSE WILL BE REPUBLICAN

H. A. COOPER BELIEVES THERE IS NO DOUBT OF IT.

at District Congressman Delivers an Eloquent Speech, Defining the Issues of the Campaign, to a Crowded House in This City
Last Evening.

The Hon. Henry A. Cooper spoke to large and attentive audience last night at the Myers opera house. He gave an eloquent talk, and at times, a very y one, and he was cheered repeatedly.
His eulogies of Lincoln and Grant both pearls of oratory, and comely captivated the audience.

Mr. Cooper arrived in the city at 2:50 afternoon, and was met at the port by T. S. Nolan and O. F. Nowlan, who escorted him to the Myers House.
There an informal reception was held for a few minutes.

In discussing the political outlook in congressional circles, Mr. Cooper said to a Gazette representative:

"From all I can see, or hear and from my own experience of the campaign, I would say that without a doubt the House of Representatives will have a republican majority. The statement of the national chairman would indicate such."

When asked about the sentiments of the country through which he had spoken, he said that in several instances in Ohio, the orators had to get out in the street to speak because of the crowds in the hall, which was not large enough to hold them.

At the opera house in the evening the Imperial Band played a selection, after which O. F. Nowlan introduced the Bower City Quartet, and E. O. Kimberly, who sang campaign songs. O. F.
Nowlan in a short speech introduced the speaker of the evening, the Hon. H. A.
Cooper. Mr. Cooper after acknowledging the introduction of the chairman, said in part as follows:

As the chairman has referred to the condition of this country during the preceding democratic rule, I will also call it to your mind. The democratic orators of that time were full of promises, and they are today, and at the close of the administration of that most noble of statesmen Benjamin Harrison, the report of Dun & Co. showed that during the fiscal year in no time until then had the country enjoyed such a mammoth foreign or domestic trade.
Labor was employed then and the golden sunshine of prosperity lay on the land from ocean to ocean.

Yet we had a change in '96, we had a change and what a change. It was like the locusts of Egypt and not more devastating. We all remember it and nothing is so good to judge the future by as the past.

In the '96 campaign the democratic platform called for a vast experiment, the coinage of silver at 16 to 1 and they promised that without it the trade of the country would go into bankruptcy.
They said that other countries had it,
yes, perhaps they did, I know China has and perhaps some of the cannibal islands.

Now the democrats tell us that if the republican party is elected trusts and imperialism will kill the country in no time. Trusts are an outgrowth of unrestricted competition and cannot be legislated on only by the states themselves. The United States has no jurisdiction over them at all only the states.
So the republican party to handle the trust question must elect tried men and true to the state legislature.

The democrats say that we are tramping on the constitution. The same democrats have been afraid of this every four years since 1860 and their cry has been "with no consent of the governed."
And friends it is because of the election of the republican party and against the imperialistic beliefs of the democrats that you are a conquered people going around stubbing your toes on the fragments of the constitution. The standing army shows that we have nine tenths of a soldier to every 1,000 men yet the democrats are afraid that it is too big.

The candidates this year are led by the best of statesmen and noble Presidents William McKinley and close by his side that combination of energy, confidence and brain, the like of which the world has never seen, Theodore Roosevelt.

of robbing the post office at Footville, Wis., on the night of October 20. The United States is represented by U. S.
Attorney Sheldon while the defendants have the services of W. G. Wheeler.
The morning was taken up with the examination of several witnesses, the United States having secured about nineteen.

G. D. Silverthorne of Footville testified to having been awakened by his wife at 12:30 midnight and in company with his son and Mr. Owen gone over to the post office and found the window and the door broken in and the room full of powder smoke. The door of the safe was blown off and the contents gone. He also testified to having followed buggy tracks to Albany thinking that it was the robbers, who were in the buggy.

Mrs. Silverthorne testified to having been awakened by the report as the safe was blown open.

Postmaster Owen testified to the letter found on the men and which had $63 in it.

Cal Broughton testified to the capture of the men which was the same as published at the time of the capture.

This afternoon the court adjourned to the circuit court chambers as Judge Patten's rooms were not large enough to hold the crowd that wanted to hear the examination. Several witnesses were examined and testified to finding the tools and money on the men and around where they were captured.
The examination will probably be finished tomorrow.

JACK SULLIVAN STRUCK HIS WIFE

The Woman's Face Was Covered with Blood When the Neighbors Arrived.

At 1 o'clock this afternoon Chief of police J. W. Hogan was called to the Jack Sullivan homestead on Chestnut street. Mrs. Sullivan was partially unconscious when the officers arrived and was badly bruised as the result of being struck by her husband who was said to be under the influence of liquor at the time that he made the assault. A little daughter who witnessed the inhuman act informed the officer that her father struck her mother with his fist.

Sullivan then fled and at a late hour
this afternoon had not been arrested.
When the neighbors arrived Mrs. Sullivan outstretched on the dining room floor with her face covered with blood.

This afternoon her condition showed improvement and she is now out of danger. Mrs. Sullivan is a hardworking woman who has the respect of all who know her.

The brutal husband is now being sought by the police and when once arrested will no doubt receive the full extent of the law.

AN INVITATION TO CITY OF MADISON

An invitation was received today by W. O. Newhouse, the president of the Young Men's republican club from the University republican club, of Madison to come to the closing rally
of the campaign on next Monday night.
The rally is to be held in the gymnasium of the university and Robert M.
La Follette is to speak. From all appearances they are going to have a celebration that will rival the one given there in honor of Chairman Hanna. In the language of the secretary of the club there "will be a grand parade with flaring lights, playing bands and cheering men."

The republican club was invited to get up a delegation to go and help Madison celebrate and they were especially invited to try and bring along the band which so pleased the Madison folks the time of the Hanna demonstration.

FOOTBALL COW GETTING FAME

Bovine Who Broke Her Neck as the Result of a Game

The Chicago Journal prints the following: "A Janesville, Wis., cow went up against a football game and got her neck broken. She'll be on the gridiron again as soon as they turn her into steaks."

Mrs. Margaret Griffin, one of Janes-ville's pioneer residents, passed away yesterday afternoon at ten o'clock at her home, 52 Gold street. Her death was the result of the infirmities of old age, she being eighty-four years of age at her demise. She has been a resident of Janesville for the last forty years and was the widow of John Griffin.
She leaves two sons, Edward and David Griffin, and one daughter, Mrs.
Catherine Sullivan, all of this city, to mourn her loss. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock at St. Patrick's church.

COLEMAN HOME FROM TRIP ABROAD

He Spent Considerable Time in London and at the Paris World's Exposition Grounds.

Joseph Coleman, residing in this city, at the Park Hotel, is home from an extended trip in Europe. Mr.
Coleman left New York City in August last. His first visit was about the British Isles, he having spent considerable time in the city of London.
In the gay city of Paris he also spent some time. While there he frequently visited the exposition grounds. Mr.
Coleman says that the great French fair surpassed in some respects the World's fair at Chicago and in other respects it was not so good. Mr.
Coleman sailed for home from Liverpool, landing after a delightful nine days' voyage in Montreal, Canada.

TWO HAVE RECEIVED VISION

Well Known Janesville People Who Have Sight Restored

The numerous friends of Wm. B.
Campbell will be pleased to learn that he has had his sight restored through a successful cataract operation which was performed on one eye at the Palmer Memorial Hospital recently. Mr. Campbell has been almost totally blind for some time past, and his restored vision will be a blessing to him.

Mrs. Frank X. Jerg is recovering from a cataract operation at the Palmer Hospital. She has been entirely blind for a number of years, and this operation will enable her to read, and restore to her good vision.

Dr. J. P. Thorne performed both these difficult operations.

FAILURE INVOLVES LOCAL RESIDENTS

HOME FORUM ORDER ASKS FOR AJUDICATION.

Sixty-Four Residents in the City of Janesville Are Members of the Society—Caused a Big Surprise
Here—J. A. Denniston Was the Local Agent.

The Home Forum Benefit order a fraternal beneficiary society, with headquarters at Chicago, went into the hands of a receiver yesterday. The assets amount to $47,000 and the liabilities amount to $317,000 in unpaid death claims.

In Janesville this society has on its books sixty-four people. J. A. Denniston is the local agent for the company. Mr. Denniston said this morning that he knew nothing of the company going into the hands of a receiver other than that learned by the newspaper accounts given today.

Following are the local officers of the society in Janesville: J. W. Clark, Vice President; J. A. Denniston, secretary and treasurer; H. V. Allen, director.

Scott Named Receiver.

Through the action of the state insurance department Thomas W. Scott of Fairfield, Ill., who was vice-president of the order, was appointed receiver, and he will liquidate the company's liabilities pro rata. It is said that the number of unpaid death claims is approximately 100.

An amalgamation of the Home Forum order with the Saffey Fund insurance society of Syracuse, N. Y., and the Northwestern Legion of Honor of Des Moines, Ia., was effected Oct. 27.
By the arrangement the former company transferred all its risks to the new company—the Home Forum Safety society. The Home Forum order party transferred all its risks to the gamated society. The transaction was approved by the insurance commissioners of New York and Illinois.

COUNT BONI IS ANGRY.

Did Not Want George Gould to Take Charge.

HIS WIFE FEARS PUBLICITY.

Says It Will Only Hurt Her Husband's Feelings—Paris Society Is Stirred—Gould Brothers Will Not Talk—Judge Dillon's Opinion.

New York, Nov. 2.—The Countess de Castellane, whose property has just been placed under the direction of her brother, George J. Gould, by a French court, was questioned relative to the matter, says a Paris dispatch to the World, at her mansion in the Avenue du Bois de Boulogne, but she would not go into details of the case. She said:

"Please make light of the matter. It will only revive stories which will hurt my dear husband's feelings. He already suffers keenly the exposure of his present situation."

Count Is Indignant.

Count Boni has been away from Paris for the last three days, but will return today (Thursday). Last night he was conversing for an hour with his father over the long-distance telephone and had heard the news. He is indignant that the court should have appointed a foreigner to watch over the countess' fortune. He wanted his father appointed if a trustee was to be named.

"My son," said the Marquis de Castellane last night, "thought I could serve him equally well. Boni and the Gould brothers won't agree. We both felt that George Gould will administer the trust with harsh parsimony. Boni with difficulty will bear this bondage."

The event has created a great stir in society, and all Paris clubdom is speculating as to the outcome. Some of the count's more heated friends assert that he will not submit. Others laugh at this.

The marquis, Boni's father, was in Paris last summer and studied the whole question. He has plans, it is predicted, that will enforce immediate and radical changes in the Castellanes' mode of living.

Gould Brothers Silent.

The news of George Gould's appointment by a French court as administrator of his sister's (the Countess de Castellane's) property, was conveyed by a reporter to the Gould brothers in their Broadway office. George Gould sent out word that he could say nothing, though he might make a statement later. Edwin Gould likewise declined to be interviewed, but said that he was glad to hear the news. Frank Gould said simply that his brother George must do all the talking. George Gould summoned his two brothers into his own office, where the doors were closed and they conferred nearly an hour. As a result of this talk it was said George Gould will soon start for Paris to take charge of the Castellane affairs.

Coudert Bros., are counsel for Castellane. Frederick R. Coudert, Jr., said: "I can't say anything now, because it would not be fair to my clients. It is all in the hands of our Paris branch, where the Castellanes' business is done. A little later we may have something to say for publication."

What Judge Dillon Says.

Ex-Judge John F. Dillon is the Gould's counsel. "I have not had any personal knowledge of what the count has spent in the last five years," he said, "nor can I confirm this news. The countess got a sixth of her father's estate and neither she nor the count had the right to touch the capital. No court has the power to allow them to, either."

MY SISTER'S BABY

My baby is full of abounding life and joy; my sister's boy is a puny thing.

The difference is: my baby is healthy. He takes his fill and sleeps; and he grows. My sister's boy gets fully as hungry, he cries with hunger; then cries, I think it must be, from weakness; his food is a burden to him.

Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil will set that poor little boy in the way of being as good as his cousin.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like. SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl street, New York.

made; it is, of course, under the laws of France, which provide for such emergencies. They are very much more frequently made there than in this country. A great many persons in Paris are under trusteeships of this kind, and it is not considered any reproach or reflection upon them."

MAJOR J. G. DAVIS IS DEAD.

Illinois Veteran of Two Wars Dies in Manila.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2.—General MacArthur at Manila notified the war department that Major John G. Davis, United States volunteer, died at Manila of chronic Bright's disease. Major John G. Davis was born in Lexington, Ky., fifty-two years ago. He was educated in the public schools of his native city and attended several surgical schools in Chicago and Paris. He entered the medical service shortly after the outbreak of the civil war and served with distinction all during the war. He first became prominent in his profession during the great yellow fever epidemic in New Orleans. He was rewarded for his services there with a medal by the United States government. At the commencement of the Spanish war he again offered his services to his government, and was assigned to the division of the army commanded by General Ludlow. He was present in Cuba during the Santiago campaign, and at the conclusion of the war was appointed chief sanitary officer of Havana. It was due to his exertions that the yellow fever epidemic there last year was lessened and the sanitary condition of the city so greatly improved. But his constant exposure to disease in Havana and the constant hard work his duties as chief sanitary officer involved finally undermined his health and he was compelled to return home to recuperate. Last spring he insisted that his health had improved sufficiently for him to return to his chosen work, and, despite the opposition of his wife and relatives, he volunteered to go to the Philippines. He was stationed in the province of Nueva Caceres, Luzon, where he remained until the time of his death. A widow and two children survive him. Mrs. Davis is at present in Florida. Major Davis' eldest daughter, Mrs. James Everts, resides in Chicago. His brother, G. W. Davis, and his sister, Mrs. Connor, reside in New Albany, Ind.

General Shafter reports to the war department the arrival at San Francisco of a number of military passengers on the transport Meade. Also five insane soldiers and 254 sick soldiers. Among the deaths at sea during the voyage was that of Louis A. Huff of Company G, Thirtieth Infantry. His home was in Epworth, Ill.

Used For British Soldiers In Africa.

Capt. C. G. Dennison is well known all over Africa as commander of the forces that captured the famous rebel Ghalibe. Under date of Nov. 4, 1897, from Vryburg, Bechuanaland, he writes: "Before starting on the last campaign I bought a quantity of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which I used myself when troubled with bowel complaint, and had given to my men, and in every case it proved most beneficial." For sale by Smith's Pharmacy, next P. O., Kodak agents.

Minister Wu at Pittsburgh.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 2.—Wp Ting-Fang, the Chinese minister was the principal speaker at the Founders' day exercises at Carnegie institute. He was met at the station by Mayor Diehl and Col. Samuel Harden Church, upon his arrival from Washington, and driven to the Hotel Schenley, where breakfast was served. Later an informal reception was tendered the distinguished diplomat and after a private view of the art gallery and museum he was taken for a drive through the parks. At the conclusion of the exercises Minister Wu held a public reception.

Roosevelt on Violence.

Jamestown, N. Y., Nov. 2.—Governor Roosevelt in this city finished the next to the last day of his New York tour. During the day he traveled through five counties and made fifteen speeches, nearly all flavored with vigorous attacks on Richard Croker and National Chairman Jones for their published attitude on the counting of the ballots, which Governor Roosevelt diagnosed as an incitement to violence.

Murder Mystery in Arizona.

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 2.—News has reached here of the mysterious murder of Francisco Lopez, a young man of Tombstone. Lopez was at a party of Mexicans at Woodcamp, in the Dragon mountains. He left the camp on a hunting expedition and a few hours later his body was found some distance away with a bullet hole in the left side.

Addition for Rush Medical.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—Rush Medical college is to have a new $50,000 building, for which Dr. Nicholas Senn has just given $50,000. Plans for the new building, which is to be called Senn hall, are already in the hands of Dr. E. F. Ingals, the controller of the college.

Mob Silences Banna.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—Mark Hanna was buffeted into silence by an unruly mob at the Republican rally in the big circus tent at Thirtieth and Halsted streets last night.

NEW MOVE MADE BY FRANCE

Prepares to Quell Uprising in Southern China.

TROOPS ARE NOW ON THE WAY.

Rebel Success Would Imperil Possessions in Tonquin—May Also Be Answer to Anglo-German Fact—Alignment of the Powers.

Paris, Nov. 2.—The French authorities are watching the rebellion in the southern provinces of China very closely, as it is considered that a successful development of this uprising would seriously affect Tonquin. The recent explosion in Canton in some houses adjoining the official yamen, by which a number of persons were killed, is regarded by the French officials as evidence that the Chinese authorities are powerless to maintain order.

Under the convention of 1893 France and China guaranteed not to make any changes in the provinces adjoining Tonquin. France also leased a portion of the Kwangtung coast, and it is therefore regarded here that it is incumbent on France to aid the local Chinese authorities in suppressing the rebellion. Hitherto the five warships stationed at Canton were considered a sufficient precaution against any outbreaks, but now the governor of French Indo-China, M. Paul Doumer, has ordered all the ships of the Tonquin Navigation company to be placed in readiness to transport troops to the disturbed district in Southern China, and 1,000 men have already embarked at Saigon for Canton.

It is expected that this movement will excite curiosity and suspicion among the powers, as it appears to be a counterpart of Russia's action in Manchuria. It is thought in some quarters that the new move has been made on account of the Anglo-German agreement.

Powers are Aligned.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2.—The alignment of the powers on this British-German agreement, is now complete. Aside from Italy and Austria, whose adherence to the agreement was expected, owing to their political relations with Germany, Japan is the only one of the powers which has given unconditional assent to the agreement. As the matter now stands five of the powers are united in all the terms of the agreement, viz.: Great Britain, Germany, Italy, Austria, and Japan. Three of the powers—United States, France and Russia—accept the clauses relating to the open door, and the territorial integrity of China, but withhold action on the third clause, relating to future procedure in case any power seizes territory.

Candidate Commits Suicide.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Nov. 2.—Henry B. Proctor, county treasurer for four years and Republican candidate for state senator in the Seventeenth district, committed suicide with laudanum. A committee of the board of supervisors reported this week that his retention of certain interest money was contrary to law and partisan use was made of this to attack his character. These attacks and ill-health caused mental derangement. He was 40 years old. His wife and one son survive him. A. W. Weeks of Lowell will probably be put on the ticket to succeed Proctor as candidate for state senator.

Messenger Boy James F. Smith Tells of His Meeting With Kruger.

James Francis Smith, the messenger boy who carried to President Kruger at Pretoria a message of sympathy signed by 20,000 schoolboys of Philadelphia, arrived at New York recently. Looking fat, brown and healthy, he told his story with enthusiasm and vigor.

"I reached Pretoria on May 28," said Smith to a reporter of the New York World, "and the British were then within 40 miles of the Boer capital. I saw Secretary of State Reitz, who arranged for the interview with President Kruger at 3 p. m. I drove to the president's one story cottage, with the two marble lions presented by Cecil Rhodes in front. I had the petition of 20,000 names in a black leather covered box, weighing seven pounds. Oom Paul looked just like his picture, as he stood at the end of the table, holding his pipe in his hand, wearing his tall hat and stooping slightly. This is what I said:

"Your excellency, I have the honor to present to you a message of sympathy signed by 20,000 young men of Philadelphia which was entrusted to me to deliver."

"In the Transvaal they like to shake hands above everything. So everybody shook hands with everybody else, and then Secretary Reitz showed the first part of the roll to his chief. Oom Paul, who understands and speaks English, said in Dutch to Secretary Reitz: 'Say to this young man: My son, I thank you for taking this long journey to bring a message of sympathy to an oppressed people. I hope that you will have a safe and pleasant journey home. Tell the young men of Philadelphia that this expression of sympathy will encourage the people of the Transvaal to continue their struggle for freedom.'"

"That night Oom Paul left for Middleburg, 150 miles toward Delagoa Bay. While the English bombarded the city I picked up a piece of Iddite shell 14 inches long. Lord Roberts' march into Pretoria on June 5 was grand and magnificent. The English kept me a prisoner and would not allow me to ride horseback or to ride a bicycle for fear that I would carry intelligence to the enemy."

The American District Telegraph company entertained the boy at breakfast at the Waldorf-Astoria in honor of his return.

STREET IMPROVEMENT.

Office of Street Assessment Committee, City of Janesville, Wis., October 18, 1900.

Sealed proposals will be received at this office until the 10th day of November, 1900, at 2:00 o'clock p. m., for grading Division street, in the city of Janesville, Wisconsin, according to the specifications, profiles, plans and details thereof on file in the office of the city clerk of said city, for the improvement of said street, to wit: That portion of Division Street, which extends from the southerly side of South Third Street to the northerly side of Oakland avenue in the Third ward.

Work shall be commenced on said street on or before the 27th day of November, 1900, and the whole work shall be completed on or before the 27th day of December, 1900, failing in which the contractor shall pay to the city of Janesville, as liquidated damages, the sum of twenty-five dollars per day for each and every day's delay in completing said work.

Directions to Bidders.

Each bidder must accompany his bid with a contract and bond, with not less than two sureties, who shall be free holders of the state of Wisconsin, and shall justify as to their responsibility and by their several affidavits show that they are worth in the aggregate at least the amount of the entire contract price in property not by law exempt from execution. Surety companies approved by the Street Assessment Committee will be accepted in lieu of personal sureties.

Said contract and bond, with sureties, must be completely executed on the part of the contractor, with the exception of the signature on the contract and bond, and must be complied with.

This is a POSITIVE REQUIREMENT OF THE CHARTER AND MUST BE COMPLIED WITH.

Bids failing to comply with the above requirements will not be considered.

Bidders must submit proposals to do the work according to the specifications, profiles, plans and details for said street, stating thereon in plain and concise language the amount of the entire contract price in property not by law exempt from execution. The bids for the work will be canvassed and considered in the aggregate based on the estimated quantities named in the specifications. All bids and the accompanying contract and bond must be written on the blanks prepared by the undersigned for the purpose, and prices should be stated in writing and in figures. All bids must have attached thereto internal revenue stamps to the amount of fifty cents.

All bids should be marked on the envelope, "Street Assessment Committee," with the name of the street marked thereon, on which such bid is made, and filed in the office of the Street Assessment Committee in the City Clerk's office, in said city.

N. B.—Bids for the proposals and blank contract and bonds for such street will be furnished on application to the city clerk.

The bids, when the lowest ones, will be decided by the Street Assessment Committee. The said committee reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

Signed—VICTOR P. RICHARDSON, N. B. KENNEDY, City Clerk, Street Assessment Committee.

Tenacity Increasing in Ireland.

Statistics submitted at the last session of parliament show an increase of insanity in Ireland during 1899 of 559 cases over the record of 1898; that gave in turn showed an increase of 714 over 1897.

OFFICIAL NOTICE.

Notice of final determination as to benefits and damages on Division Street.

Published by the authority of the common council of the city of Janesville.

Office of the City Clerk, Janesville, Wis., Oct. 18, 1900.

To whom it may concern:

Notice is hereby given that the common council of the city of Janesville, at a meeting thereof, held in the council chambers, in said city, on the 17th day of October, 1900, adopted the final report of the street assessment committee on improving Division Street, from the southerly side of South Third Street to the northerly side of Oakland avenue, in the Third ward, by grading, at the expense of the property benefited thereby, and made a final determination as to the amount to be assessed to each parcel of real estate as benefits or damages accruing thereby by said proposed improvement, and that a statement showing the amount so assessed is now on file in my office.

A. E. BADGER, City Clerk.

OFFICIAL NOTICE.

CITY IMPROVEMENT NOTICE.

Published by the authority of the common council of the city of Janesville.

Office of the City Clerk, Janesville, Wis., Oct. 2, 1900.

To whom it may concern:

Notice is hereby given that a contract has been let for improving South Second Street, from the southerly side of South Main Street to the westerly side of Wisconsin Street, in the Third ward, by grading, macadamizing and the laying of gutters and curbing, and that the expense of said improvement chargeable to the real estate has been determined as to each parcel of said real estate, and a statement of the same is on file with the city clerk.

It is proposed to issue bonds chargeable only to the real estate to pay the special assessments, and such bonds will be issued covering all of said assessments, except in cases where the owners of the property file with the city clerk, within thirty days after the date hereof, a written notice that they elect to pay the special assessments or a part thereof on their property, describing the same on presentation of the certificates.

A. E. BADGER, City Clerk.

Frog as German Barometer.

Among the smaller animals several are so sensitive to changes from heat to cold, from dry to moist, that they foretell these changes some time in advance. One of these, the tree frog, is used at this day in Germany as a barometer. It is placed in a tall bottle with a little wooden ladder. The steps of the ladder mark, as it were, the degrees. The frog always goes up toward the top in fine weather, and lower down at the approach of bad weather.

ITALIAN COUNT IN A CELL.

Offender at Chicago Says He is of Noble Birth.

PINES AND WILL NOT EAT.

Alberto Scartabelli Deplores His Fate From the Ethereal to a Common Look-up—Popular in Art Circles—Was Society Favorite.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—Pining and bemoaning because the bars of his cell soiled his white gloved fingers, Alberto Scartabelli de Porzia, who explains in various continental languages that he is an Italian count and of royal connection, is locked up in the basement of the City hall, a forger. As Charles E. Labberis, supposedly of Galveston, Tex., he was arrested as he was emerging from his apartments in the Victoria hotel, bent on attending the horse show. To Captain Collieran the prisoner confessed to his guilt and identity. The loss of all his property in the Galveston disaster has made him destitute, he says. Scartabelli came to Chicago on Oct. 23 and immediately became popular in many circles of society. In his possession was a card extending, by courtesy of Dr. E. J. Senn, the freedom and hospitality of the Chicago Athletic club for two weeks. A lover of music and painting, the Italian ingratiated himself with officials of the Art Institute and the Chicago Musical college, and his delicate celluloid engagement book was filled with appointments with well-known patrons of art. The self-styled nobleman was installed, still in his evening clothes, his white gloves and opera hat, in a cell in the city hall. Though Italian by birth, Scartabelli has spent the majority of his twenty-seven years in France. It is the language of that country which he speaks most fluently and his manners are distinctly Parisian.

"Tough" Says the Count.

"O," he exclaimed with a shrug of disgust, as he withdrew his white-gloved fingers from the bars of the cell and beheld the stain of grease and dirt, "this is too—what you call in the English—too tough. To think to treat a gentleman like this—O, it is to break the heart."

"But why did you forge the checks?" asked Captain Collieran. "You must be acquainted, Count, with the recipe for keeping out of the hands of the law."

"Why did I forge the checks?" replied the foreigner. You ask it? Why, monsieur, to get me money, of course."

Further than this the prisoner would admit nothing. A plate of food was put under his grating, but he left it untouched and declared he would not eat till he is liberated. The Italian came to grief over a check for $182, which he presented to Clerk Baad of the Victoria hotel in payment of his board bill. The check was drawn on a New Orleans bank and bore, the police say, the forged indorsement of J. Del Orto, a broker of that city. Clerk Baad telegraphed to New Orleans and discovered the worthlessness of the check. Another check of $130 was cashed for the Count by Garibaldi Q. Cuneo, South Water street merchants here, and the return of the paper from the bank on which it was drawn caused the arrest. At the hotel Scartabelli had registered as Charles E. Labberis of Galveston, Tex. Advice from that city say he is not known there. He was well dressed, or refined appearance, and apparently of considerable means. No suspicion was aroused until the incident of the checks. In Scartabelli's room were twenty-eight checks, believed by the police to be forgeries. They amounted to $2,000. Several Chicago business men are involved. Among other papers were certificates of service in the Italian army, a certificate of divorce from Fanny Monsani in 1890, receipted bills from the Chicago Athletic association, the Southern Yacht club of New Orleans, and two insurance policies.

Charles Amaden Found Dead.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 2.—Charles Amaden, capitalist of Amaden, Vt., was found dead in a room in the Hotel Metropole today. He was 69 years of age and was engaged here in settling up the estate of his half-brother, the late John Ward, of which he was executor. A wife and daughter survive him. Heart disease is supposed to have caused death.

Alleged Bigamist in Jail.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—Charles F. May, who was indicted last week on a charge of bigamy, was brought from Tullahoma, Tenn., and placed in the county jail here. May is claimed as husband by Sallie Spearman and Bertha Spearman, sisters, one of whom lives in the southern town and the other in Chicago.

Troublesome Times in France.

New York, Nov. 2.—The outlook for disturbances in France is becoming graver every day, says a Paris dispatch to the Times. In the north 100,000 miners are on strike, and the recent socialist talk from members of the government seems to have encouraged a violent and revolutionary spirit.

Destructive Storm in Texas.

Dallas, Tex., Nov. 2.—Reports from northern and north central Texas show Tuesday night's storm to have been very destructive. Houses were wrecked in Kaufman, Ellis, Hill, Collin and Grayson counties. Three persons were killed and several were seriously injured. Crops suffered severely.

JONES TRIES TO KILL HIMSELF.

Secretary to the Late Millionaire Rice Attempts Suicide in the Tombs.

New York, Nov. 2.—Charles F. Jones, secretary and valet to the late William Marsh Rice, whose death occurred under suspicious circumstances, attempted to commit suicide in the Tombs at 4 o'clock this morning by cutting his throat. He was removed to Bellevue hospital.

Jones was under examination in the Criminal court building yesterday by Assistant District Attorney Osborne, and several detectives, and it was reported that he had made some sort of a statement or confession to the authorities.

Jones was found in his cell almost unconscious from loss of blood. He had inflicted several cuts in his neck and had severed the jugular vein on the right side. He used a small but very keen penknife.

The surgeons at Bellevue hospital said that Jones would recover. Frederick B. House, counsel for Charles F. Jones, was seen last night by a reporter in regard to the rumors that Jones had made a confession. He said he did not believe the reports were true. He seemed greatly surprised to learn that Jones had been taken to the district attorney's office and kept there several hours. He continued:

"When I visited Jones at the Tombs in the afternoon he told me that Assistant District Attorney Osborne, Capt. Baker and representatives of the firm of Hornblower, Byrne, Miller & Potter visited him at 8 o'clock on Tuesday night and stayed with him until 3 a. m. yesterday morning. I think such a proceeding an unusual one. I asked Jones what was the nature of his business and he said that they wanted him to confess. 'What did you tell them?' I asked Jones, and he replied: 'Why, I told them I could not make a confession as I had nothing to confess.'"

Members of the firm of Hornblower, Byrne, Potter & Miller refused to say anything about Mr. House's statement.

Toll of Days Before Abraham.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 2.—Chronicles of days long before those of Abraham have been unearthed from the desert sands of Mesopotamia. Dr. Herman V. Hilprecht, curator of the Babylonian section of the University of Pennsylvania museum, returned today from Asia Minor and told of the discovery of the library of the temple of Baal at Nippur. In it were records of a civilization dating back thousands of years before Christ. Dr. Hilprecht regards this discovery as perhaps the most important archaeological work of the nineteenth century.

A Dining Calculation. If twelve persons were to agree to dine together every day, but never sit exactly in the same order around the table, it would take 18,000,000 years at the rate of one dinner a day, and they would have to eat more than 470,000,000 dinners before they could get through all the possible arrangements in which they could place themselves.

Citizens of United States. A naturalized citizen of the United States is one of foreign birth who has renounced all foreign allegiance, and who complies with all of the naturalization laws. Importance of Trifles. "Trifles, light as air," will bring ruin upon a man or a family, and blast the hopes of a kingdom. The vital knot of a man's nervous system is said to be no bigger than a pin's head, yet upon this tiny speck depends the life of the nerves, and upon that hangs the existence of a Caesar or a Napoleon, who shapes the destinies of mankind.—William Matthews.

BY CANOE TO WASHINGTON.

Big Thunder Will Paddle There to See the Great White Father.

Frank Loring, the chief of the Penobscot tribe of Indians at Old Town, near Bangor, Me., and Peter Nicolai, another prominent member of the tribe, will leave the island on Sept. 15 in a canoe for Washington, says the New York World. Loring is known as Big Thunder, and he is now about 80 years of age. He is as well and strong as a man of 60 and has planned this trip to the national capital for the sole purpose of seeing President McKinley.

The craft in which the trip will be made has already been built and is now one of the attractions to be seen by visitors to the Indian reservation. The canoe is built entirely of birch bark, wooden pegs and plugs being used where nails are necessary, the bark being held to the rail with withes of ash. The canoe was built by Lewis Penobscot. Big Thunder and Nicolai will launch the craft at Old Town, come down the Penobscot river to Bangor and then continue their course down the river to the Atlantic ocean. They will follow along the coast and expect to stay at night wherever darkness overtakes them.

Big Thunder has already received invitations from lighthouse keepers in the path that will be taken to remain with them on the way for a few days, and the invitations will be accepted as far as possible.

Brescia's Punishment.
If the description given by a contemporary of Brescia's probable punishment be correct, that miscreant will have no great cause to congratulate himself that capital punishment has been abolished in Italy, says the London Globe. The life sentence for such crimes as his involves ten years in a "dark chamber not much larger than a coffin," and during this period the door is never opened and the prisoner never exchanges a word with any human being. If he survives this, he goes for the rest of his life to the galleys. But the chances of his attaining even to this measure of relief are, we should imagine, extremely small.
